1. Three Kinds of Costs

When you buy a home, you pay more than the purchase price. Costs fall into three groups:

- Up-front costs — paid before or at closing: down payment, inspection, condo document review.
- Closing costs — paid on the closing date: legal fees, land title fees or transfer tax, title insurance and adjustments.
- Ongoing costs — after you move in: property tax, condo fees, insurance, utilities and repairs.

> The big difference between Alberta and BC
> Alberta has no land transfer tax. Buyers pay only Land Titles registration fees, which are small. BC charges a Property Transfer Tax (PTT) on almost every purchase, but first-time buyers and buyers of newly built homes may be exempt.

2. Down Payment and Mortgage Insurance

Minimum down payment (2026)

Purchase price	Minimum down payment
Up to $500,000	5% of the price
$500,000 to $1,499,999	5% of the first $500,000 + 10% of the rest
$1,500,000 or more	20% (mortgage insurance not available)
Example: $600,000	$25,000 + $10,000 = $35,000

> Since December 15, 2024, the price limit for an insured mortgage is $1.5 million (it was $1 million). First-time buyers and buyers of newly built homes can choose a 30-year amortization on an insured mortgage. Others are limited to 25 years.

Mortgage default insurance (CMHC, Sagen or Canada Guaranty)

If your down payment is less than 20%, the mortgage must be insured. The premium is a percentage of the mortgage and is usually added to the mortgage balance. There is no PST on the premium in Alberta or BC.

Down payment	Premium (% of mortgage)
5% – 9.99%	4.00%
10% – 14.99%	3.10%

15% – 19.99%	2.80%
30-year amortization	add 0.20%
Example: $600,000 home, $35,000 down → $565,000 mortgage	4.00% = about $22,600 (25-year) 4.20% = about $23,730 (30-year)

3. Closing Costs — Alberta vs. BC

Example: a $600,000 resale home with a $565,000 mortgage. All amounts are estimates. Your lawyer gives you the exact figures before closing.

Cost	Alberta	British Columbia	Notes
Land transfer tax	None	PTT: 1% on the first $200,000, 2% from $200,000 to $2M, 3% from $2M to $3M (+2% more on homes over $3M)	BC example at $600,000: $10,000
Land title transfer fee	$50 + $5 per $5,000 of value → about $650	Small registration fees (usually in legal disbursements)	Alberta fees increased in October 2024
Mortgage registration fee	$50 + $5 per $5,000 of mortgage → about $640	Small registration fee
Lawyer / notary fee + disbursements	$1,000 – $2,000	$1,200 – $2,500	Varies by firm and complexity
Title insurance	$200 – $400	$200 – $400	Often arranged by your lawyer
Home inspection	$450 – $700	$500 – $800	Strongly recommended
Condo / strata document review	$300 – $600	$300 – $600	Condos only
Appraisal	$0 – $600	$0 – $700	Lender may require it or pay for it
Real Property Report (RPR)	Usually provided by the seller (houses)	Not used	Alberta standard contract
Property tax / condo fee adjustments	Varies	Varies	Pro-rated to the closing date

Estimated closing costs	about $3,000 – $6,000	about $13,000 – $17,000	Excludes down payment, mortgage insurance and moving

> BC first-time buyers save up to $8,000
> With the first-time home buyers' exemption, a $600,000 home pays only $2,000 in PTT instead of $10,000. See section 5.

4. Buying a Newly Built Home

Item	What to know
GST	5% GST applies to newly built homes in Alberta and BC. Resale homes have no GST.
First-Time Home Buyers' GST Rebate (new)	Became law in March 2026. Eligible first-time buyers get a full GST rebate on new homes up to $1 million (up to $50,000). The rebate phases out between $1 million and $1.5 million. Applies to purchase agreements with a builder signed from spring 2025 and before 2031. Confirm the exact start date and your eligibility with your builder and the CRA.
Regular GST New Housing Rebate	For buyers who are not first-time buyers: up to $6,300 on homes up to $350,000, phasing out by $450,000.
BC Newly Built Home PTT Exemption	Full PTT exemption on new homes up to $1,100,000, partial up to $1,150,000. You do not need to be a first-time buyer. Must be a Canadian citizen or permanent resident and live in the home.
Amortization	Newly built homes qualify for a 30-year insured amortization.
Deposits	Builders often require several deposits. Ask about deposit protection and the home warranty.

5. First-Time Buyer Programs (2026)

Federal (Alberta and BC)

Program	Key details
First Home Savings Account (FHSA)	Save up to $8,000 a year ($40,000 lifetime). Contributions are tax-deductible and qualifying withdrawals are tax-free. No repayment.
Home Buyers' Plan (HBP)	Withdraw up to $60,000 per person from your RRSP ($120,000 for a couple). Repay over 15 years. The repayment start date depends on the year of withdrawal.

First-Time Home Buyers' Tax Credit	A $10,000 credit worth up to $1,500 on your tax return.
First-Time Home Buyers' GST Rebate	Up to $50,000 on a newly built home (see section 4).
30-year amortization	Available to first-time buyers on insured mortgages.

British Columbia

Program	Key details
PTT First-Time Home Buyers' Exemption	No PTT on the first $500,000 of value (saves up to $8,000) for homes up to $835,000, with a partial exemption up to $860,000. Must be a Canadian citizen or permanent resident, have lived in BC for 12 months (or filed 2 BC tax returns), and never have owned a principal residence anywhere.
Newly Built Home Exemption	See section 4. Cannot be combined with the first-time buyer exemption on the same purchase.
Foreign buyers	An additional 20% PTT applies in specified areas. Federal rules also restrict purchases by non-Canadians. Get legal advice.
Speculation and Vacancy Tax	May apply to homes left empty in designated areas. Principal residences are generally exempt.

Alberta

Alberta has no land transfer tax, so there is no provincial exemption to apply for. On a $600,000 home, an Alberta buyer typically saves about $8,500 compared with a BC buyer who does not qualify for an exemption.

6. Condo and Strata Costs to Check

- Monthly fees: what is included (heat, water, insurance, parking) and how fees have changed.
- Reserve fund: Alberta requires a reserve fund study at least every 5 years. BC stratas with 5+ units must now get a depreciation report every 5 years and can no longer waive it. A low reserve can lead to a special assessment (levy).
- Special assessments: ask if any are approved, being discussed, or likely.
- Insurance deductible: if damage starts in your unit, you may have to pay the building deductible. Make sure your own condo insurance covers it.
- Bylaws: pets, rentals, short-term rentals (Airbnb), renovations and parking.
- Move-in fees: some buildings charge move-in or move-out fees.

7. Ongoing Costs After You Move In

Cost	Alberta (typical)	BC (typical)
Property tax (monthly)	$300 – $700	$250 – $800
Condo / strata fee (monthly)	$300 – $800+	$350 – $1,000+
Home insurance (monthly)	House $125 – $350 · Condo $40 – $120	House $150 – $400 · Condo $50 – $150
Utilities (monthly)	$200 – $400 (house)	$150 – $350 (house)
Repairs and maintenance	Set aside 1% – 2% of the home value each year (less for condos)	Same

9. Timeline and Your Team

Step	What happens
Pre-approval	Your lender or mortgage broker confirms how much you can borrow.
Offer accepted	You and the seller sign the purchase contract.
Conditions	Usually 5–10 business days for financing, inspection and condo documents. Remove conditions in writing.
Firm deal	The sale is binding. Your deposit is due on the date in the contract.
Lawyer / notary	Searches the title, prepares documents and receives your funds.
Closing / possession	Title transfers and you get the keys. In BC, completion and possession are often on different days.

Your team: REALTOR® · mortgage broker or bank · real estate lawyer (Alberta) or lawyer/notary (BC) · home inspector · condo document reviewer · insurance broker.
